handle it and call us back.

Despite following all instructions and completing the required tests promptly, we encountered numerous failures regarding appointments, prescriptions, and follow-up care. My mother's prescription remains unprocessed, follow-up appointments were never communicated, and the bronchoscopy was missed due to a lack of notification. These lapses not only caused significant distress but also compromised my mother's health. As a daughter trying to secure proper care for my ailing mother, I am deeply disappointed and frustrated by the unprofessionalism and lack of communication at Dr. Agarwal's office. These persistent issues have turned this process into a stressful and unacceptable ordeal.

For anyone considering Dr. Agarwal, please be aware of these serious issues with the office staff. The administrative failures and poor communication could have a serious impact on your care.

To the office manager and owner, this situation is deeply concerning and warrants your immediate attention. I strongly urge you to take swift and decisive action to address these systemic failures. The level of service we encountered is unacceptable, and it is crucial that urgent improvements be made to safeguard the well-being of your patients.

Not very responsive when calling for appointment or asking about alternative. Dad went in for throat/lung issue and was given drug that is used to treat for cancer and the cost was expensive. Was told to call in if there is stomach or bowel issue. Called and no response about alternative medicine or what not; no follow up instructions. Folks decided to no longer take medicines and stop going.

Got an authorization request from this place many months later for the drug. We dont want to continue with this medicine ... why do they keep requesting. Guess they get a kick back for ordering this expensive medicine.

Thank you Lam. Your concern from the layman perspective is heard. Pumonary fibrosis has only TWO medications, that too after waiting for 50 years, and hence are costly. We had to jump through hoops to get approval by your father's insurance. I am sure you are aware that whole existence of the insurance company is to deny payment where ever possible and with slightest opportunity where patient or provider is not persistent. And guess what, this whole back and forth paperwork with insurance and multiple phone calls with prolonged wait is all NOT paid for! Staff dont come free, and I don't get a government salary! My time is my salary and spending hours and hours on this is to get my patients get the best! Unfortunately this is not common knowledge, including smart educated people like your kind self. You could have persevered few more visits and encouraged your father to continue the treatment that we onerously got approval.
Also, FDA (food and drug administration), DEA, Medical board of California and PHarma Codes are vigilant and really strict. Anti kickback statutes can take away license to practice medicine and jail time or other penalties are guaranteed. I assume you know people first hand who did that and are now being penalized. This office takes pride in doing the right thing and evidence based care, even though we are a private practice.
Please tell me the name of your father by virtue of call / email and I will be happy to refer him to another Physician of your choice. I wish you and your father the best of health.

(Copied from my google review)
A little late, but a much-deserved review. I came to Dr. Agarwal almost 5 years ago to be seen for Sleep Apnea. I was initially with Kaiser and was told that, while I did have sleep apnea, my condition did not need any treatment despite my sharing with them my inability to stay awake during the day (even dosed off at a work meeting).
After switching insurances, I googled around to find Dr. Agarwal and came in to receive a sleep study where it was discovered that the testing done at Kaiser was not done correctly, and I did need to receive treatment for my sleep apnea. I have moved out of the area but can still connect with Dr. Agarwal, thanks to virtual meetings. He has been thorough in providing me insight into my condition and has answered each question I have presented to him.

5 years later, I have noticed a difference in my energy levels, and I feel more rested than I could remember.

I went to see Dr Agarwal to help me understand why I am felt so tired. After taking home, the monitor, he shared with me that my breathing stopped several times an hour. He then prescribed a CPAP machine for me. I'm more than thrilled to get back to my normal self and very appreciative of Dr. Agarwal's help. He is fun to talk to, and very down to earth. I also found this staff to be very professional. I highly recommend him.

immediately yelled at my dad asking why he has that CPAP machine. When this doctor ordered this machine....and never explained the results to my dad. I've worked with many doctors and this is definitely not someone I would recommend to my own patients. This doctor is not a compassionate human being, I would not recommend this doctor to anyone. He is inconsiderate of your time and lacks communication skills.

We explained the need to exchange Luna (or 3B) CPAP device that DME dispensed him and brainwashed about it being good while its not clinically useful. Argument was not necessary. Your presence as a healthcare professional might have helped in understanding the process and maybe help explain to him to get better benefit from the CPAP device. DME company and manufacturers made extra profits and patient is still suffering - neither do we like it, nor would you. Sorry you felt the urge to go online and vent than pick up the phone and discuss like a mature health care professional.

Very good doctor. Was referred for my suspected sleep apnea. He went through all the choices I had and was very good at explaining to me the treatment and has been very meticulous in his follow-up and making sure the CPAP device is comfortable for me and making sure my overall sleep is good.

- UPDATE (reply to business owner) -

Nothing "vengeful", just facts:

I still have the doctor's voicemail apologizing and blaming the no show on patients.
I still have my log history showing the Zoom wait time, and real # of call attempts made.

Highly suggest web searching the doctor by his full name vs business name paints a different picture.

Best of luck to everyone in finding a good doctor.

1st appointment (1 hr late)
2nd appointment by Zoom (no show)
3rd appointment by Phone (no show again)
Billed for 1 appointment, 2 tests, totaling 3 charges with 0 follow-up

The doctor left a voicemail "apologizing" for his no shows while blaming that his patients often ask a lot of questions and he just can't get them to "SHUT UP".

There's a reason his schedule seems so available compared to other pulmonologists/sleep doctors.

Would it be possible that the doctor jam packs his schedule and treats patients as dollar signs?

He left me feeling like a transaction, not a patient.

Quite possibly the most useless and incompetent "specialist" I've ever visited. Firstly, I had an appointment for 2PM and this fellow shows up at 3:10PM, making me wait for a whole hour. There's no apology and comes in with an extremely condescending attitude.

I explain my delayed sleep phase issues and things I've tried. After about 10 mins, he tells me to "try and sleep earlier and wake up at the same time" and suggests a bunch of things that I already explained to him that I do e.g. melatonin and light therapy.

He then proceeds to prescribe an SSRI for no valid reason, completely unrelated to the delayed sleep issue. When pressed as to why he prescribed this, he said it helps his patients anxiety. I point out to him that it is unrelated to the delayed sleep issue and that I don't really suffer from anxiety to which he agrees but says it helps patients relax. I suggest that perhaps an SSRI is unnecessary to achieve the goal of relaxation and that I would like to try other lighter approaches first.

He also took a video of the inside of my mouth and showed me a few diagrams and suggested I might have sleep apnea. He described the symptoms and I told him I didn't have any of those symptoms. He then showed me a diagram of airway obstructions and told me the video he took resembled the diagram with sleep apnea. He glossed over this really quickly.

When I got back home, I took a closer look and saw that this was completely false. My airway most closely resembled the image WITHOUT sleep apnea. This guy is a complete dope who has no idea what he's doing. I wouldn't be surprised if the only reason he prescribes certain things is because he gets a kickback from them.

The whole visit was a huge waste of my time. Avoid at all costs.

This is a followup to my earlier review since there are 2 major treatments I received from Dr. Agarwal and Dr. Lal since my last review both to address my sleep apnea and improve breathing. First Dr. Agarwal provided excellent and efficient/fast treatment to get me a CPAP machine and get started with treatment and secondly in parallel Dr. Lal performed successful surgery to trim my nasal turbinates and straighten my deviated septum to improve breathing. Both are complete and am very happy with the treatments as well as the attention and care received not only from both super duper doctors but also the office staff. I rate them and recommend them highly. Only negative thing about the surgery is the painful 4 days recovery with swollen nose and bleeding and breathing through mouth but in exchange I hope to get lifetime of improved breathing with health benefits.

As I said before I did not know these doctors before and this is my unbiased review.

I am a patient of both Dr. Lal and Dr. Agarwal and rate them very high not only for their clinical treatment but overall experience in the office. Both are excellent doctors. Excellent and efficient staff. Very comfortable sleep study rooms and warm technicians. I rate them highly. I went to them with a referral from my primary care physician and wish I had consulted them years ago rather than going to Kaiser. I am very happy with the treatment/attention I am receiving.

Dr. Sanjay Agarwal is excellent with his diagnosis. His diagnosis an year back for me was very accurate and I should say I learnt how to deal with it. I took my husband in today for an issue he is suffering from 2 years, which many doctors didn't care about. We are happy and confident with Dr. Sanjay Agarwal's explanation and are hopeful that my husband will be fixed soon. Will update my review once his treatment makes some progress / ends. Having seen a lot of doctors here in US (even with a very good insurance policy at hand), it is really difficult to find a great doctor who listens, asks, explains, diagnoses like him. Wish we could make him our primary care.

One note on the PCP that he suggests (Dr. Vijay Tukral) though, skip him. He is so complete opposite of Dr. Agarwal.

The state of affairs of public assistance health insurance is common knowledge and the reason why many providers shy from accepting them. Payments are meager, management strict, and paperwork exhaustive! Attempts to help get meaningful data to help you required extensive unpaid work by the office staff and the doctor; all in good faith; and with limited cooperation and follow through by yourself. The delay in office that day was unfortunate; the denial and repeated requests for test approval by insurance was beyond our control. The state insurance company or your providers who try their best to help you, deserve a little more respect than wanton public rant. It's sad.
We wish you the best in finding a better provider. Office Manager

I went to Dr. Sanjay Agarwal office on 6/20/2019 due to my rheumatology doctor referral. The purpose to visit Dr. Sanjay Agarwal is to get info of any medication currently I am taking affect lung disease. I called insurance and Doctor's office to make sure Dr. Sanjay Agarwal was paticipating/ accepting my plan before I made this appointment. The answer was "yes". I went there, the front desk ask me to pay $20 for specialty co-pay. Dr. Sanjay Agarwal suggested me to go for lung wash, I told him the purpose I came today for medication I was taking affect lung issue. Dr. Sanjay Agarwal said he would ask front desk to send info to my doctor. Unfortunately, my doctor was not getting information from Dr. Sanjay Agarwal. So my doctor had to send me to different doctor. It was waste my time and money. A month later, I got a bill from Dr. Sanjay Agarwal to pay for $38.xx, I was unhappy. I called Dr. Sanji office, ask why charged additional, you told me that Dr. Sanjay Agarwal participated /accepted my plan, and you requested me to pay $20 in front of office before the service on the day; now you said you are not participator with the plan. Dr. Sanjay Agarwal is misleading me and I waste my time and money. Never see Dr. Sanjay Agarwal again.

I am a 58 year old male with severe COPD. I also have severe sleep apnea. I have been coming to Doctor Agarwal for four years. I have left comments before on various web sites for him and his staff. I recently had a PFT in his office and then a follow up appointment. His staff is great! They are extremely professional and friendly. In the front office Guille stands out as awesome. Doctor Agarwal truly cares about his patients. He takes the time to get to know you and your history. He also takes the time to educate you on your issues. He has taught me how to deal with and take control of my illnesses. I highly recommend Doctor Agarwal.

I have had COPD and Sleep Apnea for several years. I moved to San Jose in February 2012 and was extremely concerned that I would not be able to find a Pulmonologist that would come close to comparing to the one I had in Oregon. Not only has Doctor Agarwal met my expectations he has exceeded them by far. He keeps up to date with the latest developments in treatment and shares what he knows with his patients. I came to him thinking that I was educated in my disease of COPD. He has taught me so much more about my disease and treatment. The front staff is awesome. Gia is the best. He also treats me for my sleep apnea. I am sleeping better than I have in years with my new CPAP settings. His sleep lab is state of the art and the technician was knowledgeable and also took the time to talk with me so I could relax. Doctor Agarwal genuinely cares about his patients and their well being.

To say the least, Dr. Agarwal takes his time to get to know you, and provides guidance every step of the way. At some doctors', you pay for a quick chit chat and leave without a clue what to do next. With Dr. Agarwal, he takes actions to ensure you get better as quickly as possible. Oh, and it helps that him and his staff got a great sense of humor. Otherwise it would just be another boring doctor visit.

Excellent and efficient staff. Very comfortable sleep study rooms and warm technicians. Doc is friendly, has a good sense of humor, and wants to see success. A very gentle and non-judgmental atmosphere, especially as someone who is overweight and struggling to lose weight. This is important to me because I have literally been harassed by other doctors about my weight despite the fact that I see a specialist for complex and longstanding health issues which caused my weight to increase. Dr. Agarwal knows how to make gentle suggestions without being overbearing or causing embarrassment.
